

CHATEAU SOUSSANS 2016

After a mild, wet winter, the vine began to grow slightly earlier. But the cool spring weather slowed them down considerably. Flowering took place under very favorable auspices, in the first days of June. The beautiful climatic conditions during summer, raising hopes of a great vintage. The veraison was quite late, we know that the harvest would be relatively late.

Some's rain in early September was very beneficial to the somewhat parched vines and after that the weather remained dry.

We began to pick with the Merlot to 3 October and for the Cabernet Sauvignon to 15 October.

The first tasting, after the vinification, we were very enjoying; the aromatic structure is superb, the tannins are very pleasant and pretty, well balanced with a very long persistence in the mouth. Dark berry, cassis and blueberry note on the nose.

The blend of chateau Soussans 2016 in 54% MERLOT, 45% CABERNET SAUVIGNON AND 1% CARMENERE
